There are a few changes happening in our education wing that we want to make you aware of. We announced several days ago in our Facebook group that we will be considerably downsizing our church library.

The first step in this process is to phase out our Christian Fiction section. We would like to give you the chance to take any of the current fiction books from the church library and add them to your personal collection at home. This will be a first come first serve basis.

Feel free to stop by while you're here today. Some of the other books will be made available in the coming weeks, but for now we are focusing on the Christian fiction section.
